Time Space and all of us

An extraordinary ordinary
man

“Life is not about fighting through it, it is about living in it.”

Serge Benhayon (Esoteric Teachings and Sayings)

There are many of us that say, “I would like more time for myself”, “there’s no time for me”, or “I have to get around to creating more space for me and those I love”.

Time, Space and all of us is a presentation by Serge Benhayon that speaks about the disconnection from ourselves when we have a life that is run by exhaustion, and the hectic pace of living a life that is trying to ‘measure up’.

This way of living takes its toll on our bodies and our relationships.

Serge presents how we can re-connect with ourselves and re-claim our equilibrium.

“Time offers healing, correction and most of all, a method by which we can re-turn to who we truly are.”

Serge Benhayon (An Open Letter To Humanity)

Time as we know it is a big fat lie.

Time is a measure of how long it takes us
to return to where we all will eventually be.

However, where we are going, that is, where we will all eventually be,
is actually coming
around to us and not
us going to it.
